Proper maintenance practices are key to peak performance and uninterrupted service from your Sullair compressor.

Avoid the unexpected costs of compressor failure and downtime. Under Sullair's Preferred Care, we can provide a maintenance program at a fixed cost during the period of the agreement. Some of the routine maintenance functions performed include:

- Inspection of key components such as filters, separator element and compressor fluid, and recommend replacement, if appropriate.
- Check the purge line length and replace the orifice specific purge filter.
- Perform functional tests on compressor and associated equipment.

All services and functional tests will be identified to ensure that the compressor performs in compliance with manufacturers operating and maintenance instructions.

Sullair Service Parts are built to the highest standard

We will use only Sullair parts because they were designed especially for Sullair compressors and made of the highest quality materials. Superior parts mean superior performance. You purchased a Sullair compressor because of its reputation for performance and durability. Anything less than a Sullair part puts your compressor and production in jeopardy.

Written Report

When we've completed our maintenance, you'll receive a comprehensive field service report on your compressors and commentary on the other equipment in the compressed air system.

Compressor History

Because we are partners, the maintenance history of your system will be made available to you. We will also advise you of the general environmental conditions that will impact the life of your compressed air system.
