

Outsourced maintenance keeps your compressor at peak operating efficiency

Sullair Superior Care

Superior Care provides:

- Professional maintenance at a fixed cost
- Maximum compressed air system uptime for increased plant production
- 24/7 emergency breakdown service
- Routine evaluation and reporting of your compressed air system

Sullair Superior Care

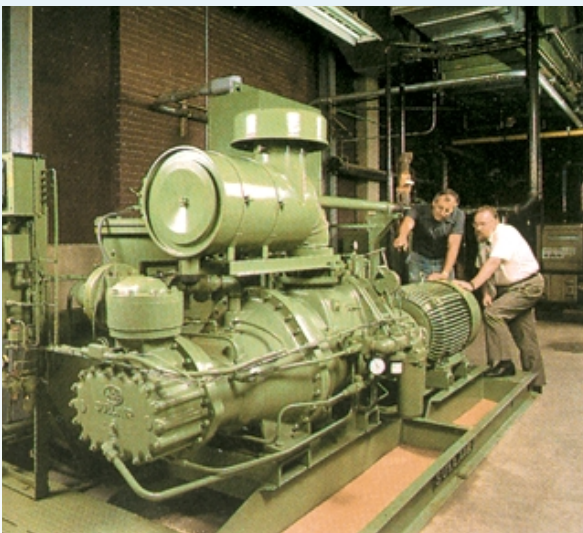

Long-term scheduled maintenance

For maximum plant production, proper maintenance of your Sullair compressed air system is key to uninterrupted service.

Let us function as your compressor maintenance staff and provide a complete program—at a predetermined cost over the term of the agreement—to help you avoid the unexpected expense of compressor failure and production downtime.

Sullair Service Parts: built to the highest standard

Using anything less than a Sullair part puts your compressor and production in jeopardy. Sullair parts are designed especially for Sullair compressors and made of the highest quality materials. Superior parts mean superior performance. You purchased a Sullair compressor because of its reputation for performance and durability. Sullair Service Parts keeps it that way.

performed by skilled technicians

Our Partnership

When we complete your compressor maintenance, you'll receive a comprehensive field service report on your compressors and commentary on the other equipment in the compressed air system. And, because we are partners, the maintenance history of your system is always available to you. We will also advise you of the general environmental conditions that will impact the life of your compressed air system. And if an unexpected emergency should arise, we'll be there—24/7!

Other Services

The Superior Care Program offers you all of our skills and resources. Our technicians receive ongoing training to stay abreast of the latest service practices and techniques. Our total capabilities are available to you, including services such as:

- Complete system evaluation
- Condition monitoring
- Air quality testing
